MARYSVILLE, April 19th.—It has been known for a long time to old residents of this city that some sort of combustible gas existed in the water supply of this city, which is derived by pumping from deep wells in the heart of the town, but until the present time it has not been supposed attention everywhere, the idea has arisen here that there may be, and probably is, a copius supply of this gas under the city site. The facts that go far to support this view are these: Over one of the pumps in the Water Works is a copper cylinder serving the purpose of an air-chamber. A pipe issues from its top and terminates in an ordinary gas-burner.

It is possible at always for the idea has arisen larger number of horses are entered and will start than ever before in the existence of the association. There is $16,000 in stakes and purses offered in sixteen races with 330 entries.

It is possible at almost any time to obtain a flame from this burner, and when the pump is in operation the flame burns continuously. During the past few days persons working about the building have obtained a large flame from the end of a iece of hose attached to a small waterpipe, being careful to turn the faucet in a way to produce the desired effect. The well from which the gas-charged water is pumped is 180 feet deep. It is thought that a gas well sunk to a greater depth here night strike a strong flow of gas.

Investigation Commission: The Legislature will be chosen in a few months, and no man who proposes to be a candidate should be permitted to escape from declaring himself whether or not he is in favor of cleanliness at the polls and more vigorous punishment of ballot-box offenders? It is because the Republican party stands for a fair ballot and an honest count that it has special missionary work before it in the South, where in many sections it is undeniable that a fair ballot and clean count is not had for Republican candidates. It is one of the fundamental principles of the Republican party that the ballot-box shall be free and voters untrammeled in the exercise of their sovereign right. That it can never, and never will abandon. Its voice always has been and will be for fair dealing and justice to all men in every section of the country, and it ought to declare for it in California now, anew and unmistakably.

Between the mere act of attempting to cast an illegal ballot and accomplishing the crime, the law now maintains the broad distinction that exists between misdemeanor and a felony. But what reason can be advanced for it? While the penalty is now altogether too light, to make the crime a capital offense would antagonize the sentiment opposed to capital punishment for any crime whatever, and would, therefore augment the difficulties of conviction, besides by reason of its radicalism raising up opposition to it. The better plan would be to abolish all distinctions between attempting to vote illegally and so voting; between inciting or bribing one to vote and accepting the bribe; between "stuffing" a ballot-box and destroying it. Make all these offenses felonies, punishable only by imprisonment in the State Prison without power in the Executive to pardon the offender, and attach as the sequence of conviction the penalty of deprivation of the

The business of the miner is gone so far as placer and river diggings are concerned, but the quartz miners have excellent prospects and carnings, had not the Government subsidized opposition roads, and thus taken traffic from the Central-Union line, which it was contemplated that line would have had, at least to the maturity of its debt. Transcontinental transportation for the United States in the same way has been diverted from aided to non-aided roads by the Government, thus reducing the payment on the debt to be made by these charges. They state that "The United States has granted very large amounts of aid in lands to other roads, which have become competitors to the Union Pacific Railway Company and the Central Pacific Railway Company." The testimony presented to the Commission shows that the traffic diverted to other lines which were aided in their construction by the United States has amounted to $37,000,000. The relations between the debtor company and the creditor Government concerning this diverted business are these: The contract contemplated that the debtor should discharge its loan by the annual payment of a percentage of the income from the mortgaged property. The creditor then proceeds to establish competing institutions which greatly reduce the income of the property. This is done to advance its interests in other ways which are of much greater importance than the collection of its debt in full. The percentages of income are promptly paid by the debtor, but they are less in amount than was contemplated, because of the act of the creditor. Any equitable settlement for the balsance of the debt must, it is claimed by the debtor, consider these facts; payment in full now being impossible. modations are taxed to their utmost. The modes of death's approach are va ous, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the nd lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat, and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing consumption, and to the head, causing catarrh. ON WEDNESDAY EVENING THE "BEE" made reference to the contest about the lines of my lot. It said there are two feet of room on each side of the house. There is but room for a post on the east. In place of McCarthy's putting up a new fence, as the "Bee" stated he had, he only put up a temporary three-board fence over the space of his house, and that was only for the purpose of holding possession. It may still be seen there. On the west side, between myself and McCarthy, there is over these for head. west side, between myself and McCarthy, there is over three feet lacking in the lower part, and on the east side, where the fence is straightened, there is hardly anything, for the posts are all broke and the fence hanging over. I merely want to make this statement to let the public know what I bought from him. I only claim what the deed calls for.

Resolutions of Condolence. The Ministerial Union of this city has adopted the following resolutions concerning the death of the son of Rev. Mr. Wheeler:

Wheeler:

WHEREAS, Rev. J. C. Wheeler, D. D., a member of our Union, has suffered sore bereavement in the death of his son. Conway M. Wheeler, and feeling deeply our brother's grief, therefore be it resolved

First—That we hereby express to him and his family our fullest sympathy for them in their great sorrow, assuring them of our earnest prayers that they may have the adequate consolations of Divine Grace in our Lord Jesus Christ. Second—That as we mourn with the family in the loss sustained, we rejoice that Conway having found peace in Christ had such victory over death.

THE RAILROAD WORKS.

Outline of the Improvements Now in Progress by the S. P. Company in Sacramento.

The railroad company has broken ground and are now preparing for the foundations of extensive improvements at the shops. The increase of repairing and the constant demand for new work, has necessitated the enlargement of the shops, their present size being totally inadequate. The new shops and additions will give an additional floor room of 75,780 square feet, or Kelly as sureties.

The buildings will be of The monument is to be completed within corrugated iron and conform in style and ten months from the signing of the paappearance to those already erected.

A Former Sacramentan in Trouble The telegraph brings the news of serious charges made against Immigration Commissioner Cameron H. King, of Arizona. King was several years ago a resident of this city. He is a nephew of the late Governor Haight, and was Secretary of the Code Commission. He married Anna, daughter of the late David Beveridge, who died a few years after in San Francisco Police Officer Appointed.

King made a big fee in a will case at the bay, and afterward removed to New York, where he was reported to be prospering. His residence in Arizona was known to b few persons here. He was always regarded as a very bright man, and it is hoped that the accusation of official corruption brought against him may be found to be groundless.

Indications that Emperor Frederick is Nearing the Grave. Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.

BERLIN, April 19th .- The early morning eports from Charlottenburg bring no comort to anxious observers of the Emperor's illness. He passed a very bad night with a raging fever, which his physicians were entirely powerless to mitigate, and he seemed to be losing ground considerably. At about 11 o'clock this morning there was a marked temporary improvement in his condition and a slight suspension of his dangerous symptoms. The physicians in attendance, however, have learned to place attendance, however, have learned to place
